TIFAOUT Story

TIFAOUT agricultural cooperative was founded in the rural commune of Talgjount, district of OuladBerhil, in the province of Taroudant in 2004, on the initiative of its president Lalla Nezha AKTIR, with the aim of promoting the product of argan tree, and to enable women to benefit directly from the income of their product.

With the development of the cooperative step by step, the thought and work of its members have also developed, so that today it occupies a prominent place among the cooperatives specialised in argan's products production and marketing.

The experience of its women and the work according to the required quality standards, enabled it to obtain a set of quality certificates (ONSSA, ISO22716, Bio Maroc, EOS, NOP, IGP, Label terroir du Maroc), and to participate in national and international fairs.

The cooperative has contributed to a qualitative take-off of the region through : Contributing to the fight against illiteracy, offering jobs to young women in the region, as the region was known nationally and internationally.

The continuous and serious work of the cooperative has also enabled it to forge partnerships and obtain the support of a set of national institutions (Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries, the Argan Project, Office for the Development of cooperatives, the National Initiative for Human Development, the Regional Council of Taroudant, the Mohammed V Foundation for Solidarity and other institutions). It has won many prizes: (The gold medal for the Zamita product, the silver medal for the Argan product, the "LallaALMOUTAWINA" prize for the best female project, the "TAMAYOUZ" Prize for Moroccan women for their exceptional solidarity initiatives facing challenges the Covid-19 pandemic). Since 2004 till now, TIFAOUT is continuously working to improve the products in order to offer them to customers with an excellent quality at a competitive price.
